$5000 damage in Stanhope

Vandals target runway lights

The lights were out at the Stanhope Airport last week after a night of vandalism. Between 5:30 p.m. and 9:00 a.m. on August 2, almost $5,000 worth of damage was done to the runway lights at the airport.

About one third of the lights on the runway and taxiway were destroyed, as well as the threshold lights at the end of the runway. Glass from the lights was strewn all over the runway, which could have caused considerable damage to any incoming aircraft. According to the Ontario Provincial Police, three complete yellow lights were also taken, possibly as souvenirs. As a result of the damage the airport was temporarily closed for night flying.

"People have to realize that this is a serious offence," said airport manager John Packer. The mixture of broken lights and glass on the runway could have resulted in serious injury or death if an aircraft had attempted to land. Due to the seriousness of the crime, causing intentional damage to an air navigation facility such as the airport is an offence under the Criminal Code of Canada. Packer noted that recently someone had stolen gas from an aircraft at an Ontario airport and was now spending three years in jail.

Airport staff were busy repairing the damage last week. "Safety is paramount at this airport," said Packer. If anyone has information concerning this crime, they are asked to contact the Minden/Coboconk OPP detachment at 286-1431 or John Packer at the Stanhope Airport, 754-2611.

There was plenty to see and smell Thursday as the Minden and District Horticultural Society held its annual flower show at the Minden Community Centre. For results from this year's competition, please turn to page 3.

Extendicare resident Irene Horne was the belle of the float aboard a bicycle built for two during the Haliburton Rotary Carnival parade last Wednesday. She was accompanied by activity director Barb Menzie and fiddler Frank Faulkner. The float from the Haliburton nursing home was judged the best over-all, receiving the Wigamog trophy and $100.

Fall Fair days are here

Does it appear that your neighbours are setting up miniature logging camps in their front yards?

Don't fret about the safety of your trees...join the fun and break out your own saws and sluice-ways because the 134th annual Haliburton County Fair is fast upon us and the theme for this year is "Logging Days". The residential display competition is open to all county property owners and winners will receive a week-end family pass for the fair. Call 489-1642 to register your entry.

In addition to the standard Haliburton County Fair events line-up, including the parade, horse pulls, midway and live-stock shows that visitors and residents have come to love and enjoy, the Minden Agricultural Society has some new events planned for this week-

With a little help

Muralist John Lennard shared his painting this past week with two aspiring artists. His grandchildren, Amanda and Stephanie Riddell joined him Wednesday morning to help add a few strokes to the impressive mural. Their father Ian has also been helping John with the massive undertaking. The mural is nearing completion and should be finished in the next few weeks.

July was a great month, mostly sunny but a number of heavy showers to keep the grass green and the gardens growing. A few severe thunder storms to keep you awake.

The average temperature for the month was almost identical to last July. The rainfall was a little more than last July.

Trivia: In 1992, Southern Ontario experienced its coldest July this century. The province failed to record a single temperature above 30 degrees Celcius. It was also Ontario's cloudiest July on record and many precipitation records fell. Toronto had 14 straight weekends of rain. Climatologists blamed the cool, wet weather on El Nino and volcanic ash high in the atmosphere from the 1991 eruption of Mount Pinatubo in the Philippines. Remember that summer?

A visit to a country garden

by Ariel White

Minden was in full bloom last week, as the Minden & District Horticultural Society held the nineteenth annual flower show. The theme of the show, "Country Gardens", was evident as gardeners from across the area displayed the best and brightest examples from their gardens.

Dozens of competitors submitted entries for over 80 categories of annuals, perennials, fruit and vegetables and crafts. The show also featured a formal cream tea with tea and scones.

Although many entrants worried whether there would be any flowers to display, due to the warm spring, the specimens were of excellent quality.

Each of the categories had to adhere to the strict guidelines of the Ontario Judging Standards for Horticulture and Design. It was obvious to those in attendance that much care and attention had been lavished on the colourful display of entries.

The following are the results from this year's show. The names are listed in their order of placing, including first, second, third and honourable mentions.

Eager anglers

These master anglers were not deterred by the wet weather Thursday as they participated in the annual fish derby. Held in conjunction with the annual Minden Sidewalk Sale the youngsters took home some valuable prizes for their efforts. Top spot in this year's derby was taken by the four member team of Shona and Cindy Malloy and Kyle and Kira Fry of Minden. Their total catch weighed in at 4.3 pounds. Second spot went to Ryan Cole of Minden, followed by Alex Lydiatt of Kinmount and Martin Gougeon of Ottawa. Alex won the $10 cash prize, donated by Gord Monk, for the largest rock bass. It measured 11 inches. The derby is sponsored by the Minden BIA in conjunction with the sidewalk sale.

Charges follow brawl on the midway

The carnival atmosphere turned ugly on Wednesday evening as almost 20 people were involved in a fight at the Haliburton Rotary Carnival. One man is in custody after a brawl broke out on the midway just after midnight.

According to the Minden/Coboconk detachment of the OPP, the fight ensued after a large group of people was asked by carnival staff to leave a ride as they were acting in a rowdy fashion. Although the conflict began between two people, it quickly escalated to involve about 20 individuals from both Haliburton County and the midway staff by the time police were called in.

The police are still investigating the incident and trying to find all the parties involved. Several people sustained injuries including concussions and bruises, although no major injuries were sustained. One man was sent to Peterborough with a possible fractured skull, but it was later determined to be a much less serious injury.

Currently in custody, charged with aggravated assault is 54 year-old Marcel Boisvert of Ottawa. The OPP investigation is continuing.

Contention over Salerno Lake development capacity

The following is a summary of the items discussed at the August 1, 1998 Annual General Meeting of the Salerno (Devil's) Lake Cottager's Association.

While many cottagers were outside enjoying the excellent weather on the August long weekend, members of the Salerno (Devil's) Lake Cottager's Association gathered to discuss the many issues surrounding the lake, including lakefront development, water testing, medical facilities and lake activities.

end's festivities.

Starting things off on Friday, August 14 will be the Ambassadors of the Fair contests at the Minden Curling Club. Come see the county's young men and women vie for the opportunity to represent Haliburton County over the next year. The contest will be split into three groups (Prince/Princess 7-12 years, Junior Ambassador 13-17 years and Senior Ambassador 18-21 years). Contestants must have been residents of Haliburton County for at least six months. To register for the contest, call Carol at 489-1642.

The more artistically inclined might want to consider entering the new poster competition. Using the theme "Approaching the Millenium", interested artists are invited to send in their hand drawn work (on 11"x17" white paper) no later than 8 p.m. on Thursday, August 13 at the Minden Curling Club. The winning poster will be displayed at the Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies Convention at the Royal York in Toronto; and will grace the cover of next year's fair booklet.

Be sure to check out the Dog and Pony Relay during Saturday's English horse events. Dogs and horses will be teamed up using a random draw and will both race against the clock (and other teams) at the fairgrounds.

Also new for this year is the poultry show at the Livestock Barn. Minden Agricultural Society members are invited to send in their favourite cocks, hens, cockerels and pullets (limit two per section) for fun and prizes. Mrs. Laura Ridsdale is responsible for the poultry show.

End your Saturday with Country 105's Video Dance Party at the Minden Community Centre. Admission is $10 per person and age of majority is in effect. Don't forget your cowboy boots!

Budding hoops stars take note, this year the Haliburton County Fair will play host to the first ever 3 on 3 basketball tournament on Saturday and Sunday. Interested boys and girls aged 10-18 should call Wayne at 286-6224 or Laura 286-4107 for details and can pick up registration forms at McMahon Feeds in Minden or Sharpley Sports in Haliburton.

On Sunday, come worship with your neighbours at the Interdenominational Church Service at 10 a.m. at the Grandstand. An offering will be taken with proceeds going to the Four C's Food and Clothing Bank.

- After church, don't miss the rough and tumble excitement of Thrill Show Production's demolition derby. Bring your 8-cylinder and 4-cylinder clunkers down to the Minden Fair Grounds on Sunday at 3 p.m. and smash'em up. Call 286-1225 for entry forms.

See you at the fair!

Blooming good show

Minden is indeed fortunate to have such a dedicated group of people with green thumbs. This past week, members of the Minden Horticultural Society displayed the results of their labours. It was a colourful and fragrant display at the Minden Community Centre. We congratulate all those who helped to make the annual flower show (this was the nineteenth) a blooming success.

Many of the same people who contributed to the show are also responsible for the colourful displays which dot this community. The newest additions this year are the barrels along Minden Main Street. Overflowing with cascades of flowers, they look gorgeous and have certainly added to the ambiance of the downtown area. The Horticultural Society volunteers also tend the flower beds along the river, the boxes on the bridge and the flower beds in front of the hospital. Without their efforts, Minden would certainly be a less colourful place.

We should also mention (touch wood) that the displays have made it this far through the season without being the target of vandals. Whether it is a matter of luck, or a growing understanding on the part of those who might be prone to this type of activity, we're not sure, although we hope it is the latter. We do know the whole community benefits when simple things like flowers are allowed to flourish.

Thank you everyone.

Not to be taken lightly

Some of us take for granted the ability to read. Do you?

Recently, while visiting Georgetown, a village in the interior of Colorado, I joined many enthusiasts to watch the July fourth parade. This national celebration expressed itself in the long line of participants. One group really made an impact on me.

A sign carried by two youths named the seventy or so people representing the group. Middle-aged men and women, seniors and children, and mothers pushing carriages closed ranks in a collage of red, white and blue. With kazoos in hand, they broke into renditions of Yankee Doodle Dandy with fancy marching formations. When not playing tunes, they made headway in a march shouting "Read, Read, Read!" The sign for the delegation read "Friends of the Library".

The enthusiasm for the written word played out in many other places. Libraries served as information centres with bulletin boards heaped with learning opportunities. Children grouped and shared stories without adult persuasion. At a garage sale, a couple who declared on their sign that they had "absolutely the best yard sale," informed the shoppers with a big shout, "all books free!"

Posters showed the significant link, that the Colorado government is declaring strong literacy skills are needed to prepared Colorado citizens for the year 2000 and beyond.

Help us keep it that way

In reply to Mrs. Bartley's letter in your July 20th issue (Clean-up appreciated): It is nice being recognized for the long hours the committee and volunteers have put in to make our centre clean. Now after any functions, even the out of town participants make sure that it is left neat and clean.

The committee would like to thank everyone who painted, planted trees, cut the lawn and to our many helpers at our ball tournaments which were both a big success. Also thanks to Haliburton valu-mart, Kawartha Dairy and Scotts' Knechtel's.

We are planning an old fashioned picnic on August 30. Watch the newspaper for further details.

To support readers and individuals needing help to become better readers, the County Town Museum is holding a book, jigsaw and puzzle sale. Funds will be donated to the Haliburton Highlands Literacy program. It will be held at the Museum grounds in Minden from 10 to 3 p.m. Donations of books would be appreciated.

September 8 will be dedicated to International Literacy Day. The Learning Program has posters available that you can put up to declare your support for this fundamental skill. Call 457-3430 for your copy. If you would like to help distribute these everywhere in your village you can ensure the message gets out. Think about volunteering.

Individuals wishing to improve reading, numeracy and communications skills can contact the Learning Program. Information assessments and private one-on-one tutoring are available. If your reading skills are higher we can link you to getting in touch with other levels of learning.

The enthusiasm for the gift of reading that I saw at the July fourth parade and throughout my days in Colorado can be a value we hold. Let's get excited and busy.

Smoke detectors are mandatory

Editor:

As Fire Marshal of Ontario, I deal with the impact and tragedy of fire on a daily basis. The fact is, approximately 70 percent of fire deaths occur in homes that are not protected by working smoke alarms. It is particularly tragic when fire strikes our most vulnerable groups — children and older adults.

The Ontario Fire Code now requires that all homes in Ontario have working smoke alarms. Failure to comply is a provincial offence and subject to a set fine of $200. This new regulation is intended to emphasize to the public just how vitally important it is to have these lifesaving devices in all homes.

Smoke alarms are also crucial to the safety of our firefighters. In a number of incidents where people died in fires, there was no evidence of working smoke alarms in the homes. As a result, the fires may not have been detected quickly enough and the occupants were trapped by the blaze. Unfortunately, in some of these tragic instances the valiant rescue efforts also resulted in the firefighters being injured — sometimes seriously. These situations may have had different outcomes had working smoke alarms been in place.

The top priority must be to prevent fires from happening in the first place. In the event that fire does occur, a working smoke alarm on every level of your home will alert you and your family and can provide you with an opportunity to escape. Working smoke alarms double your chances of surviving a fire. If you do not have smoke alarms in your home, install them now. If you have smoke alarms, test them regularly to make sure they work. Head and shoulders, knees and toes

So there I was in a bar in the Yukon, sipping a demitasse of sarsaparilla when I noticed this amorphous blob in a pickle jar nestled in among the liquor bottles on a shelf behind the bartender.

"What's in the jar?" I asked the barkeep as he refreshed my libation.

"Toe" says the barkeep.

"Toe?" I throw back at him.

"Toe" he says. With some prodding, he told me the story of a long-forgotten prospector who had accidentally chopped off his toe with an axe. For reasons known only to the prospector, he kept the toe in a pickle jar full of alcohol for years before he lost it in a poker game. (The sarsaparilla must have been flowing at that poker table — "I'll see your three hundred and raise you this toe!") In any case, the toe was separated from its owner for a second time and now makes its home on a bar shelf between the vermouth and the Tia Maria.

I shouldn't have been surprised. You just never know when you're going to run into some spare body parts these days.

Take Galileo's fingers. The famous philosopher died in 1642, but not before admirers lopped off three of his fingers to remember him by. Two of those fingers are, pardon the pun, in private hands. The other one is on display in The Museum of the History of Science, in Florence.

It's his middle finger, actually — so Galileo might be having the last laugh.

Or consider George Washington's tooth. Towards the end of his life, Washington mailed his last tooth to his favourite dentist, a John Greenwood, who lived in Maryland. Washington wanted a new set of choppers and he sent along his last molar so that the dentist could use it as a model. The dentist got the mailed tooth and the news of Washington's death at just about the same time. He decided to keep the tooth as a memento. Generations of Greenwoods have been passing down the tooth ever since.

Then of course there's Einstein's brain. The man who's been called the greatest genius of the twentieth century wanted scientists to have an opportunity to 'pick his brain' quite literally, after he died. Accordingly, Einstein left instructions to the effect that, once he croaked, pretty well anybody with half-decent scientific credentials should be given a slice of his brain. Einstein died in 1955 and his executors have been slicing off sections of his brain like so much salami ever since. Everybody who's anybody has a chunk of Einstein's brain down at the lab. I think you and I may be the last two holdouts.

Fingers, tooth, brain, a pickled toe...all of this pales in the presence of one of the great stories of appendage piracy. I refer to the saga of Daniel Donnelly, of Dublin, Ireland. Dan was a poor man — the ninth child in a family of 17 — and he might have lived and died in obscurity had not some loudmouth sailor tried to pick a fight with his father. The Donnellys, fils et pere, were having a quiet pint together in a pub when the sailor insulted Donnelly senior. When the father ignored him, the sailor turned his abusive attentions to young Dan, taunting him and calling him a coward. "I don't want to fight you," said Dan, "but if that's what you want, I'll not back down."

Whereupon young Dan took on the larger, older sailor and whipped the belaying pins out of him, ending the fight with a thunderous right hook that caused the customers to gasp in astonishment.

Word got around, and soon great strapping lads from all over Ireland were dropping by the pub to try their luck against Dan. None of them lasted more than a round or two. Before long, Dan fought the champion of England. He beat him too.

Alas, Dan had a fondness for Guinness. They say he drank five pints for every round he sparred. He drank himself into an early grave in 1820, at the age of 32.

That would have been the last the world heard of Dan if grave robbers hadn't rifled his tomb and dug up his cadaver for sale to a hospital. Doctors needed fresh corpses for dissection. They didn't usually ask too many questions about the corpse's origins.

Dan Donnelly was different. The doctor took one look at the remains of the most famous man in Dublin and shrieked "Take him back!"

Then...."No, wait."

The doctor couldn't resist hacksawing off Donnelly's right arm, which was subsequently lacquered and preserved as a 'teaching tool' for medical students.

That was nearly 180 years ago. Today, if you knock on the door of Desmond Byrne, who lives on Main Street in Killcullen, County Kildare, and if you're blessed with a bit of the Irish gift of the gab and perhaps a dram or two of Jameson's on your person, why, Desmond will invite you in and drag out the famous right arm of Dan Donnelly.

Moral of the story? Absolutely none — beyond a cautionary note. Suppose you do happen to visit Ireland one day, and you find yourself in Killcullen. And suppose while in Killcullen, you have reason to visit the hospital. And let's say while you're in the waiting room, you spy a couple of buckos trying to lift something on to a counter and one of the buckos looks up and says: "Excuse me, sorr, could you give us a hand?"

You'd best jam both hands in your pockets and walk away right smartly.

Minden father and son team 'Legends' in their own time

by Jerry Grozelle

Take some small cars, modeled after 1930s racers, add motorcycle engines that can power these vehicles to speeds of 125 miles per hour and put them on a race track and you have a recipe for some exciting action.

Ken Fielding and his son Curtis, of Minden, made the decision to get into car racing near the end of December 1997. It was at around Christmas time, as Ken recalls. The decision made, they ordered their first race car for Legends series racing. The car, patterned after a 1934 Ford sedan, was delivered in March of this year and the duo started racing in April. All Legends cars are 5/8 scale replicas of vintage NASCAR racers.

At first, Ken and Curtis shared the car, but, as Ken says, "neither one of us liked sitting in the stands."

Since watching from the sidelines didn't appeal to either Ken or Curtis, the only option was to acquire a second car. Curtis took delivery of his car, a 1937 Ford coupe replica, in mid June. The car, which had just one season's racing behind it, was taken to Craig's Signs in Minden for paint and lettering and Curtis entered it in the June 27 race in Peterborough.

The first race in his own car wasn't exactly what Curtis had hoped for. Instead of taking the checkered flag at the end of the race, he took a spectacular end over end ride that stopped the race less than a minute after it started.

As the cars bunched up on the first turn of the evening's first race, Curtis' car jumped the tire of a car in front. The encounter sent his car airborne. It came down on its roof on the concrete wall. Curtis came through the crash without a scratch and the car suffered mostly superficial damage. The roll cage did its job of protecting the driver. He estimates the speed at between 40 and 50 miles an hour at the time of the crash.

The next night, Curtis was back behind the wheel, this time at the Sauble Beach track, near Owen Sound, in his dad's car.

The damaged car was a little slower on the road to recovery, but the next weekend, it was back in action, thanks to the dedicated pit crew of Tom Prentice and Andrew McKelvey.

Except for a few choices in body style, all Legends cars are the same. They are powered by 125 horsepower Yamaha FJ 1200 cc motorcycle engines with a maximum compression ratio of 10:1. The cars have a wheelbase of 73 inches, with an overall width of 60 inches and an overall length of 10 feet six inches, including bumpers. The height is 46 inches. Weight ranges from 1,080 to 1,200 pounds. All Legends cars are equipped with 13-inch BF Goodrich TA Comp HR4 tires on seven-inch (width) wheels. Suspension is coil over, with Carrera steel shocks.

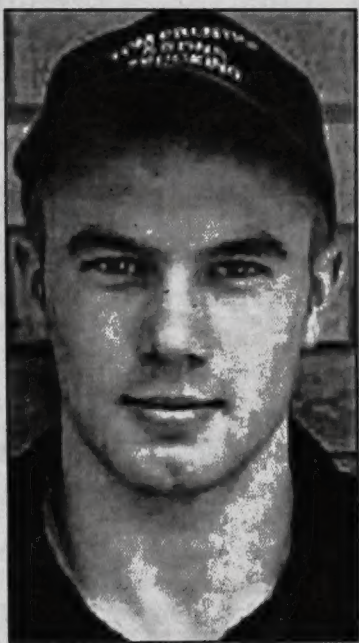

All Legends cars are built to identical specifications to keep the cost of racing affordable. The cost of a new car is about $20,000. Legends race cars are built by a company called 600 Racing Inc. in Charlotte, North Carolina. The dealer for Ontario and Quebec is Avenue Motor Works in Toronto.

Since all of the cars are equal in terms of power, a winning combination includes driver skill, suspension setup and experience.

Curtis Fielding

A photographer with Colour Tech Motorsports Photography captured Curtis Fielding's crash with a sequence of about eight shots. Three of those shots are seen here. The first shows Curtis' number 28 car as it begins its end-over-end roll. Ken Fielding's number 24 car is in the foreground.

Curtis' car is standing on its nose as another car tries to avoid contact.

The car lands roof-first on the concrete wall of the Peterborough Speedway. The roll cage prevented Curtis from suffering any injuries. He walked away from the crash to race the next day. The car was repaired and back on the track the next weekend.

the golf page

by Tom Ecclestone

We're getting closer to that time of year when we have to make decisions on which golf tournaments to participate in, if not all of them. Pinestone Resort will be holding their annual charity tournament Sunday, August 23rd. This is the third year for the event which features 18 holes of golf with a cart, a buffet lunch and a superb supper to follow. The cost is $150.00 per person with proceeds going towards a charity to be announced the day of the tournament. Space is limited so call the pro shop at 457-3444 asap.

On Wednesday, August 26, the annual R & R Junior Tournament will be staged at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course. Thirteen-year-old Ryan Hutson and Ryan Woody, 14, started the event three years ago and last year hosted a field of 50 players. The Junior Division features boys and girls age 10-12 while the Seniors are represented by the 13 to 15 category.

In order to spur interest among the girls, the Haliburton Highlands Women's Golf League will be donating a prize to the leading young lady. The R & R committee would be grateful for any donation towards prizes. The nine hole event costs just $7. For further information contact Ryan Hutson at 457-4072 or the Highlands Golf Course at 457-2233.

And a further note regarding the Women's Golf League; nomination forms for the board will be mailed out soon to all members. The formal nomination meeting will be held during the final banquet, Friday, September 18 at the Wig A Mog Inn.

Walt McKechnie's annual golf extravaganza is sure to top the list of 'busy golf days.' This fundraiser, which benefits Haliburton Minor Hockey and Figure Skating, will be held Sunday, September 20 and will be played over two different courses.

The four-man scramble format will get under way with a 12:30 shotgun start at both the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course and Beaverbrook Golf Course. All participants will meet at McKeck's Place in Haliburton and be bused to their first nine hole venue. Following that nine, the bus will then transport the entire field to the next golf course and finally bring you back to McKeck's for dinner, prizes and a surprise guest speaker.

Lunch, power carts, 18 holes of golf, bus transportation, dinner, entertainment and one of the finest prize tables are available for $110 per person. The field will be limited to thirty four-man teams. For information call Walt at 457-3443.

If you know of a tournament coming up locally, or have an idea on staging one, please contact the golf page.

Finally, the last 'major' of the year is upon us with the PGA Championship being held August 13-16 at the Sahalee Country Club just east of Seattle. 'The golf page' will once again test your talents by asking you to select five of the top ten finishers. Winners will receive a free round of golf at Blairhampton Golf Club. Make your selection by e-mail at golf@halhinet.on.ca by Thursday evening or at Blairhampton Golf Club following Men's Night.

Game for a little three-on-three?

Calling all basketball players. There will be a three-on-three basketball tournament at this year's Haliburton County Fair on August 15 and 16 for players aged 10 to 18. The tournament is open to teams of boys and girls 10 to 13 years old and 14 to 18 years old. The team fee is $20 or individuals can be placed on teams for a fee of $5. Each team is limited to four players each. The tournament is open to both experienced players and "first timers".

Registrations forms are available at McMahon Feeds N' Needs in Minden and Sharpley Sports in Haliburton. For more information call Wayne at 286-6224 or Laura at 286-4107.

ROOKIE RACERS: In their rookie year as Legends racers, Ken Fielding (left) and his son Curtis are having a respectable season, maintaining a position in the middle of the pack. Curtis' car, on the right, sports a new paint job after he was involved in a spectacular crash on June 27. The two racers compete at several tracks in Ontario and northern New York State.

"If you don't crash, it's a relatively inexpensive sport," said Ken Fielding. "The cars are easy to maintain."

Ken says he's always been interested in racing. He has tried his hand at ice racing and competed in snowmobile ice drags for four seasons.

The fieldings have four major sponsors, which include Subway, Craig's Signs, Sid Stamp Fuels and Tom Prentice and Sons Trucking.

Peterborough Speedway is the home base for the two Minden racers, but they also compete at Flamborough (near Hamilton), Sauble Beach, Delaware Speedway (near London, Ontario) and Watertown, New York. They compete in the Ontario BF Goodrich Legends Series. The Canadian championships will be held in Peterborough in October. The top 10 from the Canadian championships qualify for the North American championship in Charlotte, NC in November.

In their first season of racing Ken and Curtis are at about the middle of the pack.

Hundreds of music fans flocked to Glebe Park this past weekend to enjoy the sounds of the second annual Lotus Fest. Organizer Josh Brown was pleased with the turnout and the array of bands which entertained. Local band, Sweet Leaf, including, from the left, Mike Morrison, drummer, Jay Corby, Morgan Talaba and Kevin Brezina, opened the weekend of entertainment Friday evening, leading off 20 acts. Many spectators spent the weekend at the park, camping through the rain Friday evening, but enjoyed more pleasant conditions for the remainder of the weekend.

Norland Library's books being computer catalogued

The Norland Library's books will soon be computer catalogued. The Municipality of Laxton, Digby and Longford has hired Norland resident Nichole Bartley through a Young Canada Works Program.

The cataloguing process is for insurance purposes and so they will know all the books they have to offer in the Norland collection. The collection includes fiction, non-fiction and children's books. Bartley is using a multi-media computer to input the data.

By the time she is finished, the information from more than 1,125 books will be recorded on a computer database.

"I think I was the only one who applied for the job through the Internet," she said. "I had to write a short essay stating why I should be hired for the job."

Bartley started on July 6 and will remain on the job until August 21.

Internet access

The library also offers Internet access and Bartley provides instruction during regular library hours. For the rest of the summer, the library hours are 1-3 p.m. Monday Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday and from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

COMPUTER LITERATURE: Nichole Bartley is spending the summer recording information about the books owned by the Norland Library. The computer cataloguing process will be completed by August 21. She also provides instruction on using the Internet.

Salerno Lake property owners annual meeting

some lakefront property. The crowd gasped aloud when McCarthy stated that the study contended that the lake was suitable for 99 additional lots based on the lake and flushing capacity. McCarthy went on to say that due to the lake surface area and the value of the area as a recreational locale, there was actually only room for 22 more properties on the lake.

McCarthy suggested that the group discuss the possibility of conducting an independent lake capacity study to determine the accuracy of the previous study. "I'd like to leave this meeting with a feeling on whether we want to accept this or not," said McCarthy. One member of the association suggested the executive make the necessary arrangements to undertake the capacity study.

This motion was then amended to request that only a preliminary study be done to save the expense of a full blown analysis. This amendment caused some considerable confusion amongst the group as proper protocol was questioned. Eventually the group approved an amended motion to allow the executive to look into the possibility of a preliminary study on lake capacity.

Water Testing

SDLCA President Steve Davis reported that the executive has done two Zebra Mussel tests on the lake. As well, he announced that the water clarity, as measured with a Secchi Disc had improved from 4.6 metres last year to 5.7 metres this year. The level of phosphorus has also improved from six milligrams per litre to three point two milligrams per litre.

Kinmount Medical Centre Update

Ted Wilkes, of the Kinmount Health Services Committee, attended the meeting to discuss what has happened in the last year. Wilkes had spoken at the previous Annual General Meeting. He announced that the proposed doctor's office, originally planned for the basement of the Somerville Municipal office has moved to the former Galway Municipal Office. "We are all dressed up and ready to go," said Wilkes. He also thanked the association for its financial contributions in the past year.

FOCA Rep Speaks on Cottage Break Ins

The association also heard from Steve Foster, a director-at-large for the Federation of Ontario Cottager's Association, of which the SDLCA is a member. He discussed several topics including Lands for Life and the Cottage Watch and Where. These cottage initiatives are projects developed by FOCA to protect cottages and cottagers. The Cottage Watch program, in conjunction with the Rural Crime Prevention Strategy, is aimed at protecting vacation homes from break-ins. Foster urged everyone to engrave all valuable equipment in cottages. In the event that an item, such as a television or stereo is stolen, it can be identified by police very quickly.

The Cottage Where program focuses on mapping and determining the best system for emergency access to cottages. Foster noted that the Lake of the Woods area has spent the last two years, initiating a system of addressing cottages and homes for use with the Global Positioning System (GPS).

General Issues

The executive also discussed several topics including a membership with the Burnt River-Irondale Fisheries Enhancement Association, a donation to the Glamorgan Fire Department and the annual canoe race that took place the following day.

Ted Wilkes of the Kinmount Health Services Committee, attended the annual meeting of the Salerno (Devil's) Lake Property Owners' Association to bring the members up to date on the status of the medical clinic in that community.

HALIBURTON ROTARY CARNIVAL

A FESTIVAL OF FUN AND GAMES

The annual Haliburton Rotary Carnival rolled through town on Wednesday, much to the delight of the young and young at heart. Thousands of local residents and visitors took in the sights and sounds of the carnival midway and many exciting activities that took place throughout the day.

The evening parade was a spectacle of colour and flair. This year's theme, Good Health in The Highlands, was demonstrated in a variety of creative floats including the Best Entry by Extendicare. This float portrayed "A Bicycle Built for Two". The Best Theme float prizes were won by Camp Wanakita, the Haliburton Scout Reserve and Ducks Unlimited. The Camp and Youth Group category was won by Camp Adelaide, Camp Allsaw and Camp White Pine.

Commercial entries were taken by Beatty's Sugar Bush, Mingles, and Curry Motors, while PineStone and Wigamog took the Lodge category. The prizes for Special Organizations were captured by the Haliburton School of Fine Arts, the Algonquin Shriner's Club and Lotus Fest. Eagle Lake Stables and Kawartha Dairy took prizes for the horse category. Along with the floats were several bands including the Legion band and the Kawartha Cavaliers.

Besides the camp canoe races, the Rotary Mile and various children's games and activities, the midway was packed with fun and excitement. The day was capped off with the Haliburton Rotary draw for the 1998 Chrysler Neon, which was won by Terry Carr.

Smoky exit: Erin Nicholson of Haliburton peers out of the smoke filled camper, designed to resemble the average home. The Chief Life Line program allows children to learn fire safety through the experiences of a simulated house fire.

Denna Lake swim a success

Denna Lake cottagers took the plunge on July 25, in the annual Denna Lake Swim.

Record times were recorded by six swimmers including Wendy Hepburn, Anne Hepburn, Brian Shepherd, Cordy DuBois, Phil DuBois and Lucy Shepherd. The fun swim was capped off with a pot luck lunch, hosted by Doris Hildreth and Margrid and Henry Pickenbrock.

The Denna Lake Cottagers' Association will finish off the summer with it's annual corn roast and chili dinner on August 29 at Sheridan Kellet's cottage.

Fire Safety drill popular at the Rotary Carnival

Dozens of children were trapped in a smoke filled room on Wednesday, but all for the sake of fire safety. The Chief Life Line interactive exhibit gave children at the Haliburton Rotary Carnival a chance to experience a fire scenario in a safe environment.

The mobile display was hosted by Dawson Insurance and the Dysart Fire Department. The safety program was created by the Halifax Insurance company. Children entered the 30 foot converted recreational vehicle, and discussed proper fire safety procedures and fire prevention techniques. Parents and passers-by were able to watch the children as they worked through the demonstration, via a closed circuit tv.

Once inside, participants were able to experience simulated hot doors, smoke, smoke detectors and proper evacuation procedures. The program ended with the children having to climb out the window of the RV to escape the smoke, consistent with what they may experience during a house fire. Trained firefighters were on hand throughout the program, to ensure everyone's safety.

Erin Nicholson of Haliburton took part in the exercise and felt that was very educational. "It was fun. There was a lot of smoke," said Nicholson. The J.D. Hodgson student also stated that she was not scared during the presentation and feels that she now knows more about fire safety having completed the program.

Following the 15 minute demonstration, the children were given an activity book on fire safety and a certificate of completion.

The Chief Life Line mobile will be touring across Ontario for the remainder of the summer. The mobile display also visits schools throughout the year across the province.

Weather extremes the topic of discussion

Hyland Crest Report

Hello again. Hope everyone had a good week. Last week we mentioned our hibiscus at our front entrance of our home. Well it is now in it's prime. The flowers are absolutely huge, they must be about a foot across. It is a pity that we don't have a picture of it to accompany our column so that we can show all of you folks that we are not exaggerating.

A few days ago we had a visit from Donna and Dwight Sisson with baby Kyla who is trying our her legs.

Last Wednesday we participated in a great discussion, the topic being computers and how they are already affecting the lives of our young people, as well as the pros and cons of the communication age. We do enjoy these sessions. It is great exercise for our brains. Thanks Linda for another good one.

Our tea party was much enjoyed. It was our birthday tea and it was hosted by the Kinmount Baptist. Great food and great music. Thank you for being with us. The following morning our coffee book club met and discussed what we had been reading recently. This is a nice get-together for us and we finish off with a cup of tea and muffin. Later that day the C&M MusicMakers were here for our Happy Hour.

The long weekend was quieter than our previous ones but we still had a few visitors. Some residents went out with their family or friends. Some visitors were spotted — Muriel Harrison and Nina Prentice enjoyed a visit from Natasha, their great niece and Sean who will be returning to Japan shortly for another year of teaching. John Menzies was back with us once more with his renditions on piano. Good to see you again John. We do enjoy your music. We have missed Reverend Burgess recently due to illness. We send our get well wishes to him and look forward to him being with us again. We said goodbye to Ed Fugar who has returned home. Before we leave the weekend we send our congratulations to Linda. We were thrilled to hear of your windfall at the casino.

Yesterday, we participated in another quiz. This time we discussed things in general. Whatever subject somebody brought up. However we ended up discussing the extreme weather, such as the ongoing heat in Texas. The hardships it is putting people and animals through, the violent storms we are experiencing lately and the dry weather we have had this year. How many of you have noticed that the leaves are changing colour already? Is this due to the dry weather or heaven forbid, an early winter? Maybe both. We can always depend on the topic of weather giving us lots to talk about.

The same day there were special visitors for Vera and Walter Roberts. Their daughter Jacqueline, her daughter Catherine and her daughter Jennelle. Four generations together. Catherine was up from Florida on business, so it provided the family a way to get together for a short time. Needless to say, the visit was much enjoyed. That evening we had "pub night" and were entertained by a new group the "Norland Hill-billy's". We enjoyed their time with us and thank them for coming.

We also send get well wishes to Ruth Worthington who has undergone knee surgery recently. A speedy recovery Ruth. We miss you and Jack on Thursday morning for our sing-along.

Now we are back to Thursday again and have almost relayed all of our happenings to you. Our tea party this afternoon is being hosted by the Sarah group of the Minden UCW. We look forward to having them with us.

Before we say goodbye, a couple of announcements. Birthday wishes go out to Velma Stevenson who celebrates her birthday on August 10, from her daughter Judy. Enjoy your day mom. Our birthday wishes go out to Muriel Welch whose birthday is upcoming on August 15. Welcome Roger Pearsell of Haliburton, who is visiting us for a short while and celebrated his birthday on August 7. A big welcome back to Barbara. Good to have you back with us once more.

Around the County Town

by Nora Snyder (call 286-4425)

Can you believe the number of people up in this neck of the woods on the long August weekend? The B&B owners were turning people away up to midnight every night of the weekend. Everyone was full. Good for us but not for the weary travelers!!

We couldn't have had better weather either. Perfection!! I seemed to be spending all of my time either making or serving breakfast or carrying washed linen to the line, taking it off the line and giving it to my housekeeper to put back on the beds. It may sound like I am complaining, but I am not. It was hectic but gratifying.

I especially like the laundry part. Seeing the sheets blowing in the breeze feels so good. Lots of people feel that way. I have had guests take pictures of the sheets on the line. A couple came back the second year with pictures from the year before. One of them was the sheets!! So many can no longer hang their laundry out in the city. When I lived in a townhouse complex in Guelph it was not allowed. One day I had hung a sleeping bag over the porch railing and within a short time the "laundry police" knocked on my door to tell me to take it in.

It's great to see lines full of laundry up here !!

Last Monday St Paul's Friendship Club had a good afternoon. Ellie Langpohl won lone hands. The high scores, men and women were won by two women, Jeanne Sears and Marie Dennie. Verna McDonald was lucky enough to win the 50/50 draw.

Winners from July 30, First Minden Legion: Verna McDonald and Bill Langford won most lone hands for the women and the men; the highs were taken by Maxine Cross and Al Cooper; the lows by G.K. Wruth and N. Nimigon. Other prizes were won by Maria Tschida, Jim Bradbury, Jack Chilton, Cecil Gibbons and Orval Francis.

Second, Stanhope Bid Euchre: They wanted to remind everyone of Big Bucks Bid Euchre on August 5. The time has passed so all we can do is hope it was a great afternoon for everyone. Lunch was served and I am sure it was delicious!! On July 30 there were nine moonshots!! Marian Irwin had the highest score of 319; second Stan Walters, 311; Pat Roussel, 297; Ken Wallace, 289; Margaret Fletcher, 287; and Stan Dutka, 273.

Museum news!! The news isn't all good as the silk painting workshop scheduled for two sessions of August 14/15 and then on the 21/22 was cancelled due to illness. Other activities are being held as scheduled. On August 14 you can watch Esther Graham quilt. Esther has been a grand champion in the quilt section at the Haliburton County Fair and at a number of other fairs in the area. On August 15, you can learn the basics of traditional rug hooking. $15:00 plus a small fee for the kit will get you started. Time, 10:30 a.m. until 3:00 pm. Bring a lunch.

On August 22 there will be a used books, games and jigsaw puzzles sale from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 pm. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the public library system in Haliburton County. A birthday card will be sent to the library and the funds will be used to support the Literacy Program. Everyone is invited to sign the card on the 22nd. What a great idea !!

All the changes at the museum have created more space to be used for workshops, meetings or whatever. No more bumping elbows. No more crowding. If you have an idea and need some space, contact the museum first !!

Club 35 had a great evening of Euchre last Monday. Milton Fletcher won the 50/50 and Marilyn Teljeur won lone hands. The highs were Stella McGrath and Perce Kinsey; the lows, Peggy Awde and Alf Whyman. Alf went on to distinguish himself by winning baloney !!

I had to listen to my answering machine quite a few times to get the eight moonshot names correct from the senior bid euchre played at the Minden Legion on August 4. I hope my interpretation is correct: Murray MacKinnon, Marcel Roussel, Marie Dennie, Dave Leslie, Bev Johnson, Gala Stamp, Ellie Langpohl and Ida Young!! Whew!! The high scores were taken by Gala Stamp, Marcel Roussel and Ida Young. The hidden score was found by John Rutherford.

Two items of interest: First, Robert and Helen Gray of Mulberry House held a family and friends picnic on August 1. 110 people attended including 32 children!!! Their son, Douglas, from Ohio, came the farthest to attend. Others were there from the Whitby, Oshawa area, Barrie, etc. Everyone had a great time on the beautiful long weekend Saturday !!

Secondly, Cora Rippe of Calgary has been visiting Jackie Chillman for the month. Cora and Jackie had been talking on the Internet for six months and Cora expressed a desire to come and visit here. She went out and got a job at the Calgary Stampede to raise the money for the bus ticket, got permission from her parents to come, and she was on her way. Cora is only 15 years old!! Cora loves it here. She has loved seeing all there is to see and appreciates the natural beauty of our area. Jackie has enjoyed the visit immensely!! What a great story of having a dream and making it come true!! Come back again any time, Cora!!

An Ode to Muriel McIntosh by Ross Fletcher

Several decades ago in the suburbs of Stirling

A young babe was born and her arms were swirling

One slap on the bottom, and the whole world did know

That her lungs worked just fine (you all know that's so)

The first sound that emerged from her tender young lips

Was a booming great laugh that could have launched ships.

She is seldom, if ever, at a loss for big words

She can talk about bees, she can talk about birds.

For her exploits at bridge she is truly renowned

Yes, time and again, her opponents have frowned.

As she rakes in the tricks with twos, threes and fours

Dashing forever their hopes for high scores.

They sit there quite helpless, with egg on their faces

As they go to bed with their kings and their aces.

With skill and with savvy she surely is blessed

In the world of we "bridgers" she ranks with the best.

So ladies and gents, your glasses please raise

In friendship, in homage, with undisguised praise

To the priestess of cards, hot diggety damn

Miraculous Muriel, Queen of the slam!!

Muriel came in dead last at Stanhope bridge last week. Did the tribute of the poem which was read to her at a significant birthday the week before put her off? In fact Muriel's score along with Ross Fletcher's and Betty Roszell, all the usual top scorers, didn't total up to the fourth place winner, Jack Croucher, with 5180!! Third was Marcel Hone with 5490; second, Vange Croucher with 6540 and in first place as a first time winner, Warren Whelen with 6860. Two little slams were won by Vange Croucher with Ross

Fletcher and Edith Burch with Jean Best.

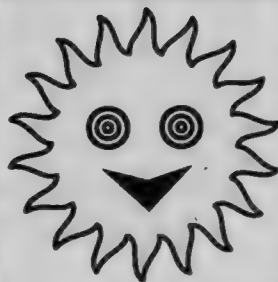

Now the duplicate bridge results: At Echo Hills, on July 30, the top three North/South were Almarie and Vincent Fahy, Joan Galley and Joyce Burtch and finally Norma Crewson and Vic Matthews. East/West were Vange Croucher and Maria Lehoczky, Carol McCord and Kelly Metcalf and third Helen Rice and Russ Fair.

At Park Lane, on August 5: North/South were Nick Lehoczky and Sharon Carruthers, Lenney Harris and Edith Shapiro and finally Alec McLeod and Mike Collins. East/West were Stella McMillan and Bev West, Helen McCracken and Mildred Davidson and finally Maria Lehoczky and Ed Voigt.

On July 31, at Club 35, they played Bid Euchre. High pink was Gala Stamp with 252; second pink, Jane Swick, 250; third pink, Jeanne Penick, 242. High white was Jim Skinner with 329; second white, Peter Farr, 281; third white, Joe Darrach, 251. Hidden score was Pat Hannah with 182. There were three moonshots won by Alf Whyman, Kate Cline and Dorothy Walters.

Well, wasn't that quite a week!! I wonder if there will be room enough to put it all in the paper? I hope so because it is all so interesting!!

Wishing you another good one!! See you here again next week!!

Week 7

Aug 11-15, 1998

Please pre-register for all workshops. Unless stated, all functions are by donation.

Murals for Minden

Have any of the murals been completed?

What's next?

August 12: 10:30 a.m. Larry Hodgson, What it takes to get a community based project off the ground, i.e. Murals for Minden.

August 13: 11 a.m. Making a Mask, Fee $1.00.

Due to a recent illness and surgery, the silk painting workshop must be cancelled. Chris, we wish you well and a great recovery. Keep smiling, it does help!

Activities scheduled for the same time period now include: August 14: Want to improve on your quilting stitch? Come in and watch Esther Graham quilt. Esther will help you by giving you tips, suggestions and practical experience. Esther has been the Grand Champion in the quilt section of not only the Haliburton County Fair but at a number of fairs around the area. By donation.

August 15: Learn the basics of traditional rug hooking. Start with a Christmas ornament. $15 per person plus a small fee for the kit. All supplies will be available at the museum. 10:30 to 3:30. Bring a lunch.

August 21: FIFI. What does it mean? Find it and fix it or finish it. Dig out that project you've had stored for ages in the closet or drawer. Gather up the supplies to work on it and join us at the museum. Maybe the project is at a standstill because you don't know what to do next. Sometimes it's just fun to work with others. Bring a lunch. From 10:30 a.m. on.

August 22: Used Book, Games and Jigsaw Puzzles Sale. From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. This year marks the 100th anniversary of the public library system in Haliburton County. A birthday card will be sent to the library and the funds will be used to support the Literacy Program. Come in, support the Literacy Program and sign and birthday card. 8B

IN MEMORIAM

SISSON: In loving memory of Robert David (Bob), cherished son, brother, grandson, and friend, who passed away August 9, 1997.

Bless you wherever you are Windswept child on a shooting star

*Restless spirits depart
Still we're deep in each other's hearts*

John Lennon

Beautiful blue eyes always smiling

A joyful noise for all to hear
Love and laughter enough to share with everyone in your world

Eighteen years of wondrous memories locked safely within our hearts

When our days are long and filled with sadness

We remember the music and the joy

And we laugh with you again as though it were only yesterday.

We will live all of your tomorrows

Missing your desperately Loving you always

And forever grateful that you were ours.

Mom, Dad, Alex, Mary, Grandma & Grandpa Sisson and Grandma Small, SISSON, Bob: fondly remembered by Kevin, Kerry, Jack & Pat.

An Invitation to Success

A ten month part-time contract position currently exists in our Haliburton sales operation.

As an integral member of a dynamic team, you will be responsible for a variety of sales, service and office administration duties. Reporting to the Sales Representative at this location, you will assist in promoting a complete line of insurance products and services, field underwriting and issuing auto policies. You will also provide marketing support to meet district goals and objectives.

The successful candidate will have a minimum of one year of business experience, preferably in the insurance industry and knowledge of software applications.

We offer a competitive salary, a comprehensive benefits package and excellent potential for personal and professional growth.
